twentysix New York is honored with Microsoft Partner Excellence Award

New York, NY – June 10, 2008 – twentysix New York, a leading business and technology consultancy specializing in innovative enterprise integration, business intelligence and custom application solutions, today announced that it was a winner of Microsoft's North-East Region Partner Excellence Award in Application Platform Optimization for SOA & Business Process.

The award was presented to twentysix New York by the Small and Midmarket Solutions & Partners (SMS&P) Group at Microsoft's New York City office and recognizes twentysix New York's tremendous performance and success with Microsoft enterprise integration solutions for the 2008 Fiscal Year.

"The success achieved by our partners demonstrates that they deliver effective applications and solutions to local customers," said Craig Kampel, New York Metro Area general manager for Microsoft's Small and Midmarket Solutions and Partners (SMS&P) group. "Microsoft recognizes these tremendous organizations by honoring their considerable successes and contributions."

twentysix New York's CEO and Managing Director Jay Harris Rabin stated, "This award is the direct result of the great work done by our Enterprise Integration practice team. This award recognizes the commitment by that team and our company as a whole to providing our customers with the quality system integration solutions that make them leaders in their industry. It also reflects the expertise and valued knowledge of everyone here at twentysix New York -- valued and appreciated not just by our customers but by our partner, Microsoft."

"twentysix New York provides a custom Enterprise Integration solution that breaks down the traditional barriers between systems," added Jemima Herman, Microsoft's SMS&P Partner Account Manager for New York. "Their team not only provides customers with streamlined business processes, information integrity across all systems, and access to information in real-time; their integration practice also focuses on understanding the real needs of our customers' business."

twentysix New York is a Microsoft Gold Certified Partner for Data Management Solutions, ISV/Software Solutions, and Information Worker Solutions. The twentysix New York team includes a Microsoft BizTalk Virtual Technical Specialist, a member of an elite Microsoft program featuring individuals from select partners with exceptional architectural, development, and customer relationship skills.
